Information from Frances Burns in 1984

Aunt Mary, Emma Bells sister, raised dad and the others. Emma Bell is buried in a small cemetery in Martinsville on a country road. Grandma Emma Bell was 13 years older than Grandpa Burns. Aunt Mary raised the children, she was 13 years older than Emma and is buried in Floral Park Cemetery.

Grace Geis, dads cousin, died at age 91 about 4-5 years ago. She lived on Madison Ave., 3 or 4 houses north of Southern. Graces parents were Will and Ellie Westover. Ella is (Elnora). She married Westover on Nov. 9, 1881. Ellie was Emmas sister. Grace was born Aug. 7, 1882. Will Westover and Ellie lived in "Homeplace" which was southwest of the southside market, before moving to Madison Avenue.

Grandpa Burns had a brother Mort. He was called Uncle Nipper and his wife was Ann. They had a son Raymond. Raymond was friends with Frances's dad Uncle Smitty.

Aunt Mae was married to a contractor, Ernest Pierson. He died about 30 years ago. Her 2nd husband was Bernard Pederson (Nardie). Aunt May was a sister to Emma and Mary. She danced on the New York stage. Aunt May had 1 son, they never saw each other or had a thing to do with each other. She didn't raise him. Uncle Nardie was in No. or So. Dakota and supposed to be a lawyer. The family questioned that. He didn't work after he married Aunt Mae. Aunt Mae met Nardie in December of 1941 through mail order. Aunt Mae looked after Aunt Mary until she died.

Chuck is in touch with Vern from time to time. His 1st wife was Alice, 2nd was Betty, 3rd was Polly. They lived on Lake Lemon. Polly had 2 children and Chuck was jealous of the 2 kids. They divorced. Chuck married again, a gal with money. They live in Florida and are going to Europe. Chuck met her in Florida. He has bad heart trouble. Vern saw him in the past year. Chuck hasn't touched the piano for 3 years and is down to 145 pounds. Vern and Chuck will be 68 years old. Vern had his 1st grandchild in April.

The last time Aunt Euna saw Armeta was in Georgia. Euna died in Florida 21 years ago. Armeta's husband Henry was killed many years ago on White River Parkway. Frances thinks they had 3 children. Aunt Euna and Uncle Kenneth lived on Buckingham Avenue, now called another name. It is the 3rd or 4th street past Broad Ripple Park. (Note, it is Buckingham Drive).

Randy living in New York and Paris, and never married. He was good to Alice and cared for her when she was sick. He went to City College and finished. He taught there. Alice has been dead quite a few years now. Randy and another guy have a booking agency.

Aunt Ann said May 7 wasn't Smitty's birthday.

Frances has a photo of me and Rosemary, also Rosemary in dads arms. A real good photo of dad.

Aunt Mandy (Amanda Burns) lived in Martinsville and married Ferd Baldwin. They had a daughter Amanda born in 1890 or so. Aunt Murriel was friends with Amanda.

All the Burns family lived at one time in 1916 on Oliver near Division. Later they moved closer to Harding on Oliver. All this area is gone now to industrial growth. Kenneth and Euna moved to Brightwood then on Arrow and Comer, then to Buckingham Drive. Aunt Murriel and Charlie lived in an apartment above Murphy's dime store across from Blocks. Chuck was born there. She was 26 when Chuck was born.

MARY E. BURNS—A TRIBUTE

Mrs. Mary E. (Downey) Burns departed this life Friday evening, Feb. 26, 1943, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Will Conway, and husband in Indianapolis. With the exception of three or four years, she and her daughter had always been together—usually in the same home. They were companions in spirit and in home life.

She was the youngest child of John and Mary McBryan Downey; born in Ohio, came to Jefferson township, this county, with her parents when a child and to the Indian creek neighborhood, south of Martinsville, in 1870. She grew up there, later making her home in Martinsville until going to Indianapolis a few years ago. There she celebrated her eightieth birthday the last day of January.

Her nephew, Chauncy D. Downey, resides in the neighborhood of her childhood, south of Martinsville, and at her request the body was taken to the home of him and Mrs. Downey.

Why would she make such request; because she loved the community in which her father and mother spent the greater part of their lives. There she attended the district school, social events and church services. She knew and loved the people who composed the community. While it is true that her associates are there no more, yet it is also true that, in spirit, such associations are eternal. Love does not die.

Mary Burns' soul abounded in love. She loved her home and made it a good place to be. Her spirit gave comfort and warmth to the home. This spirit was continuing. It was not qualified by dissent.

Her neighbors were her friends. They could not be otherwise, because she was their friend. Her greeting was friendly. Her feeling was charitable. Her words were encouraging. She criticised no one. She was the same neighbor every day.

A friendly community...
A good place to live.

History

Living in the peaceful White River Valley, Martinsville is the county seat of Morgan County. The county was created by act of the State Legislature in 1821, and named in honor of Daniel Morgan, a Revolutionary War General. The following year a tract of land approximately one-quarter mile square, located at what is now Martinsville, was donated by five landowners for the purpose of establishing a county seat. That same year, it was surveyed, and began to be settled by pioneers who followed Daniel Boone's trail through the Cumberland Gap and moved northward to homestead. It is said the town derived its name from John Martin, one of those commissioned to select the location. Within two years from its establishment, the town had grown from six families to 16, including a carpenter, a cooper and a blacksmith. Industry in years to follow developed along agricultural-oriented lines: sawmills and cooperages opened and railroad cross ties were hewn. A broom factory, marble works, canning factory and grain elevators specializing in wheat and flour developed.

Martinsville Today

Martinsville retail trade includes the newly-renovated town square and three shopping centers, along with other strategically located stores. As a trading center for some 50 thousand people, Martinsville offers residents the opportunity to engage in a diverse range of business, professional and social activities.

Martinsville's Historic Downtown Now Looks Historic

In May of 1997, a year's work reached completion on the downtown area. Replicas of original street lights were installed along with new concrete and brick sidewalks, curbs, storm sewers and street resurfacing. The project included West Morgan Street (the area coming into town from State Roads 67 and Bypass 39), as well as the downtown area. Included in the downtown work was the area adjacent to downtown and encompassing a block area each way. Many store merchants have started to refurbish and paint their store fronts. It looks to be an area on the rise. The funding is in place to begin the second phase (East Morgan Street).

The Gateway to Beautiful Southern Indiana

The Wisconsin glacier line at the southern edge of the county accounts for the rugged hills whose woodlands, in addition to their industrial use, provide an ever-changing panorama of scenic beauty in this "Gateway to Southern Indiana."

Located 30 miles south of Indianapolis and 20 miles north of Bloomington, Martinsville is on multi-lane State Highways 37 and 67. Transportation access is also available on State Highways 39, 44 and 252. A 30-minute drive on either State Road 37 or 67 gives access to Indiana's interstate system to the north. Passenger service is provided by American Trailways, while freight shipments arrive via Conrail and various inter- and intrastate truck lines. A private airport is located here. Indianapolis International Airport, served by most major airlines, is only a 30-minute drive.

Parks and Recreation

Among the cultural and recreational advantages are 90 acres of park area in the county, including a city park with ten shelter houses, a caretaker's residence, tennis courts, softball diamonds, outdoor grills, as well as a fish pond which is also used for winter ice skating. A new swimming pool was completed in 1999. The Morgan-Monroe County State Forest is nearby and to the north is Bradford Woods, where elementary school students are taken for an annual three-day nature study program. A working observatory, Goethe Link Observatory, is open to the public two weekends in April and October. The Martinsville Country Club offers an excellent golf course.

Bryant Creek Lake at Morgan-Monroe State Forest

The Morgan County Horseshoe League maintains courts near the fairgrounds, and there is a bowling alley and a cinema south of Martinsville. Summer baseball programs as well as softball leagues provide recreation for young and old. The youth also participate in football and basketball. The proximity of Martinsville to Indiana University, Bloomington and Indianapolis allows the residents of Martinsville to enjoy a broad spectrum of the performing arts. Morgan County Art League sponsors annual shows encouraging local artists to display their talents.

The Barbara B. Jordan YMCA is a full-facility YMCA serving the residents of Morgan County. A full range of programs are offered including adult fitness classes; water exercise programs; Y's Owl Pre-School for 3, 4 and 5 year old boys and girls; school-age child care; progressive swim lessons for youth and adults; water adjustment classes for infants (6 months to 3 years); youth and adult lap swims; and soccer and basketball leagues.

Festivals and Fun

Martinsville celebrates each October with a Fall Foliage Festival featuring a harvest market, historical displays, an art show, window displays and a carnival, as well as merchant's appreciation night, soil conservation tour, parade and a grand ball at which the festival hostess is crowned. On the second Sunday in October, the final event of the festival is a huge parade, said to be the second largest in the Hoosier State.

Another annual celebration is the July 4 Fireworks Display at Jimmy Nash City Park. This is the climax of a day of picnicking, speeches and ball games. The Morgan County Fair, rated one of the top four in Indiana, is held the first full week in August, and features 4-H and open class exhibits. The fair also has a queen contest, a horse show, tractor pull, motorcycle races, three-quarter midget races, and calf scramble.

A city flag depicting the tower of the 1857 courthouse and artesian well has been designed by Steve Carrell and adopted by the town. It bears the date 1822 signifying the city's beginning. Plans are being made to re-open one of the many mineral wells, which were capped after local sanitariums closed, and to provide a public mineral water fountain in commemoration of the town's nickname, "Artesian City."

Assets

Other community assets include the 139-bed Morgan County Memorial Hospital, three nursing home facilities, Morgan County Library (with Bookmobile service throughout the county). There are about 35 churches representing most major denominations within close range, women's clubs, fraternal and civic organizations.

The community is served by one local daily newspaper, The Reporter-Times, a new low-power television station, WREP 15; and WCBK, an AM-FM radio station. Cable television service is available.

The Morgan County Foundation exists to improve life for the people of Martinsville by contributing the interest from its Foundation Fund to worthy community activities that broadly support the city/county. CHAPTER 1: LANDMARKS

Courthouse

Designed by architect Isaac Hodgson and built between 1857-1859 by Perry Magnus Blankenship, the Italianate Morgan County courthouse anchors Martinsville's commercial district. Made of locally produced red brick, sandstone quarried from the banks of Indian Creek, and tulip poplar from Baker Township, the dignified building cost $30,000 when it was constructed.

On March 31, 1876, a fire destroyed the records of the county auditor and clerk. It was believed at the time that the fire was deliberately set by a clerk trying to cover up his mishandling of records.

In 1890, the wrought iron fence and hitching rail surrounding the courthouse lawn was replaced by a hitching rail of iron posts and chains. By 1901, the ten original chimneys and heat stoves were replaced by a heating system utilizing steam heat. Electricity replaced kerosene lamps by 1912.

The year 1912 also brought a second modern convenience: an indoor ladies' rest room. The Martinsville Republican of April 30, 1912, announced:

Perry Magnus Blankenship

The new rest room in the court house is being well patronized by the country women and Tuesday was the first day that there has been a lull in the procession of visitors. The women who come to the city to pay their taxes have found it a boon to have a nice, clean "homey" room in which to sit during the noon hour while the offices are closed. Others come to visit the stores and take time to linger in the rest room to look over their purchases and to consider whether they have missed anything that was on their list of wants before they left home. . . .

By 1956, the amount of courthouse functions had surpassed the size of the nineteenth-century courthouse and both the north and south pavilions were extended to accommodate additional offices on the first and second floors. Twenty years later, there was a heated debate about replacing the entire structure. One advocate for razing the courthouse raged in the Martinsville Daily Reporter, April 3, 1969:

That courthouse is an archaic monstrosity

For hundreds of years wood has been the choice of discriminating builders and during all this time the manufacturers of lumber have been studying ways and means of improving their product until now they seem to have reached the goal of perfection. And conservative cutting of their lumber they are keeping the cost of production down to the minimum and are producing quality that is almost marvelous. It is more than holding its own against all substitutes and is today the most reliable building material you can select. IS A DREAM.

The Indianapolis News stated Friday evening that interurban cars would probably be running through to Martinsville by the first of next week, but this is considered a dream. Work however, is progressing on both ends of the line. Twenty-two men and five teams were at work on the grade between here and Centerton. A larger crew was wanted but the additional men could not be obtained. Walter Weddle is in charge of the crew on this end of the line and he is making a good record in handling the work. The bridge at Mooreville would have been ready for use had it not been for the two days of rainy weather.

Elementary Schools

The original three-story North School, also known as the Second Ward School, was constructed in 1868. The building, with two rooms on the first and second floors and a large assembly room on the third, housed elementary classes as well as the first public high school. A three-story, three-room north wing was added in 1877. In 1885, a four-room addition was built on the west wall, and in 1890 a matching addition was built on the east wall. The photo at left is from 1895. Changes again occurred in 1900 when the high school moved to a new addition on the north side. In 1901, the high school had moved out of North School, and by 1911 the third floor was removed and the old building made into an elementary school consisting of grades one through six.

North School following removal of third floor in 1911.

The original North School was demolished and replaced by the second North School, which was dedicated on November 20, 1960. This school was discontinued in 1990.

South Elementary School. Located just off SR 37 on Mahalasville Road, the new South School was just five years old in 1995 when this photograph was taken.

Crowded conditions at the North and Central Schools led to the creation of South School in 1897. During this year, a two-room frame building was erected. It had become insufficient by 1903, and a new school site was purchased from James M. Mitchell. Designed by the architectural firm of C. A. Krutsch and Co. and built by W. W. Wilson, South School was completed in February 1904 and by that fall, all six rooms were filled with grades one through six. The Romanesque Revival South School building was last used for classes during the 1972-1973 school year. In 1980, the year this photo was taken, when the school board failed to sell the building for its appraised price, and the school was razed to make way for the new administration building. The original corner stone is now located in the lobby of the new South School erected in 1990 on Mahalasville Road.

Prior to 1877, the Martinsville High School was located in the converted third-floor assembly room of the original North School building. In 1890, it moved into a newly-built east wing of North School, moving yet again in 1900-1901 with the completion of a $16,000 high school addition to Central School. The high school proudly graced many photographic postcards of the time.

By 1913, the number of students had become so large that a new building was required. A site at Main and Garfield Streets was purchased and a Neo-Classical building erected. Its proximity to downtown led to the success of many businesses popular with a teen-age clientele, including Charlie's Drive-In and the Candy Kitchen.

In 1924, seventh and eighth grades were moved into a junior high addition made to the high school. Despite efforts to accommodate all of Martinsville's adolescent students in this facility, it was replaced in 1954 by the Martinsville Junior High School adjoining the high school. Eight years later, in 1963, it was replaced by the new junior high school, now East Middle School, with the high school expanding to fill the vacated rooms.

In 1973, plans were being made to abandon the 1913 high school building in favor of a new one on the east side of Martinsville. Completed in 1976 and ready for students in December of that same year, the new Martinsville High School featured facilities unheard of in 1913: an Instructional Media Center, general commons, driving range and tower, teacher's resource area, planetarium, and second-floor natatorium, among others.

Students, graduates, and faculty of the old Martinsville High School, and many others gathered for a grand farewell to the school on May 29, 1978. The get-together featured a tour of "the old school building and look into the classrooms of yesteryear." A special display of yearbooks from 1915-1976 was set up in the old orchestra room. The Martinsville High School band played in the Glenn Curtis Gymnasium prior to the emotion-filled farewell and recognition program. Special guests were former principals, teachers, superintendents, and members of the 1924, 1927, and 1933 state champion basketball teams.

The old Martinsville High School, constructed in 1913, was razed in 1979. The junior high portion, considerably altered, is now known as West Middle School. In 1981, the interior of the historic Glenn Curtis Gymnasium was remodelled. It is still in use.

HUSBAND NOTES: Ferdinand D. BALDWIN

Birth: age 43, born 1856 on 1900 Census

Occupation: VETERAN RY. EMPLOYEE RETIRES TODAY.

Ferd D. Baldwin retired today from his employment on the Franklin-Fairland & Martinsville branch of the Big Four after a continuous service of forty-six years and four months. He began his work on the F. F. & M. on August 1st, 1881, and stuck faithfully to his work ever since then. When the Big Four train pulled out of the local station this morning at six o'clock, a banner on one side of the baggage car announced to the world that Mr. Baldwin was making his last run today, the date on which he began service with the company being on the banner. Inside the baggage car were flags and on the rear end of the passenger coach flags were displayed in honor of Mr. Baldwin, his fellow employees paying him this tribute as an expression of their appreciation for him. The rainy weather made conditions damp and dreary, but just the same it is a happy day for Mr. Baldwin. Every morning spring and summer, fall and winter, and through all kinds of weather, Mr. Baldwin has shown up at the appointed hour, ready for duty when the train pulled out. His job has been that of baggage man, but he has "lent a hand" wherever needed on any occasions. During these years Mr. Baldwin has enjoyed a vacation occasionally, but he has never changed from this branch from the time he first began work back in 1881. Now that he has reached the retirement age, and will retire on a pension, his friends extend congratulations on the fact that he is still in good health, retains his happy, jovial disposition, and is always welcome in any assemblage. Mr. Baldwin has seen many changes in the personnel of the F. F. & M. branch during his period of service, and has witnessed improvements in the service. He has also been deeply interested in all affairs of the community, and is known and loved by everybody. Mr. Baldwin will take a well earned rest before deciding on future plans, but it can safely be said that he will not idle away his time. He is not built that way. He will find something to occupy his mind and hands. His many friends in this city will extend best wishes and feel assured that he will still find much in life to enjoy. D. F. Schaff, superintendent, G. E. Howell, trainmaster, and his assistant, all of Indianapolis, and Ed Bolter, conductor on the Indianapolis and Cincinnati division are expecting to make the last run from Fairland to Martinsville this evening with Mr. Baldwin. Conductor L. A. Hollis, who has been off duty for a few weeks, also made the run with Mr. Baldwin. J. H. Hodge, who has been serving as extra conductor, will succeed Mr. Baldwin as baggagemaster.

Ferd D. Baldwin retired today from his employment on the Franklin-Fairland & Martinsville branch of the Big Four after a continuous service of forty-six years and four months. He began his work on the F. F. & M. on August 1st, 1881, and stuck faithfully to his work ever since then. When the Big Four train pulled out of the local station this morning at six o'clock, a banner on one side of the baggage car announced to the world that Mr. Baldwin was making his last run today, the date on which he began service with the company being on the banner. Inside the baggage car were flags and on the rear end of the passenger coach flags were displayed in honor of Mr. Baldwin, his fellow employees paying him this tribute as an expression of their appreciation for him. The rainy weather made conditions damp and dreary, but just the same it is a happy day for Mr. Baldwin. Every morning spring and summer, fall and winter, and through all kinds of weather, Mr. Baldwin has shown up at the appointed hour, ready for duty when the train pulled out. His job has been that of baggage man, but he has "lent a hand" wherever needed on any occasions. During these years Mr. Baldwin has enjoyed a vacation occasionally, but he has never changed from this branch from the time he first began work back in 1881. Now that he has reached the retirement age, and will retire on a pension, his friends extend congratulations on the fact that he is still in good health, retains his happy, jovial disposition, and is always welcome in any assemblage. Mr. Baldwin has seen many changes in the personnel of the F. F. & M. branch during his period of service, and has witnessed improvements in the service. He has also been deeply interested in all affairs of the community, and is known and loved by everybody. Mr. Baldwin will take a well earned rest before deciding on future plans, but it can safely be said that he will not idle away his time. He is not built that way. He will find something to occupy his mind and hands. His many friends in this city will extend best wishes and feel assured that he will still find much in life to enjoy. D. F. Schaff, superintendent, G. E. Howell, trainmaster, and his assistant, all of Indianapolis, and Ed Bolter, conductor on the Indianapolis and Cincinnati division are expecting to make the last run from Fairland to Martinsville this evening with Mr. Baldwin. Conductor L. A. Hollis, who has been off duty for a few weeks, also made the run with Mr. Baldwin. J. H. Hodge, who has been serving as extra conductor, will succeed Mr. Baldwin as baggagemaster.

VETERAN RY. EMPLOYEE RETIRES TODAY

FERD D. BALDWIN MADE HIS LAST RUN THIS AFTER-NOON IN SERVICE OF THE BIG FOUR

Ferd D. Baldwin retired today from his employment on the Franklin-Fairland & Martinsville branch of the Big Four after a continuous service of forty-six years and four months. He began his work on the F. F. & M. on August 1st, 1881, and stuck faithfully to his work ever since then.

When the Big Four train pulled out of the local station this morning at six o'clock a banner on one side of the baggage car announced to the world that Mr. Baldwin was making his last run today, the date on which he began service with the company being on the banner.

Inside the baggage car were flags and on the rear end of the passenger coach flags were displayed in honor of Mr. Baldwin, his fellow employees paying him this tribute as an expression of their appreciation, for him.

The rainy weather made conditions damp and dreary, but just the same it is a happy day for Mr. Baldwin. Every morning, spring and summer, fall and winter, and through all kinds of weather, Mr. Baldwin has shown up at the appointed hour, ready for duty when the train pulled out. His job has been that of baggage man, but he has "lent a hand" wherever needed on any occasions. During these years Mr. Baldwin has enjoyed a vacation occasionally, but he has never changed from this branch from the time he first began work back in 1881. Now that he has reached the retirement age, and will retire on a pension, his friends extend congratulations on the fact that he is still in good health, retains his happy, jovial disposition and is always welcome in any assemblage.

Mr. Baldwin has seen many changes in the personnel of the F. F. & M. branch during his period of service, and has witnessed improvements in the service. He has also been deeply interested in all affairs of the community, and is known and loved by everybody.

Mr. Baldwin will take a well earned rest before deciding on future plans, but it can safely be said that he will not idle away his time. He is not built that way. He will find something to occupy his mind and hands.

His many friends in this city will extend best wishes and feel assured that he will still find much in life to enjoy.

D. F. Schaff, superintendent, G. E. Howell, trainmaster, and his assistant, all of Indianapolis, and Ed Bolter, conductor on the Indianapolis and Cincinnati division are expecting to make the last run from Fairland to Martinsville this evening with Mr. Baldwin. Conductor L. A. Hollis, who has been off duty for a few weeks, also made the run with Mr. Baldwin.

J. H. Hodge, who has been serving as extra conductor, will succeed Mr. Baldwin as baggagemaster.

MARY E. BURNS—A TRIBUTE

Mrs. Mary E. (Downey) Burns departed this life Friday evening, Feb. 26, 1943, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Will Conway, and husband in Indianapolis. With the exception of three or four years, she and her daughter had always been together—usually in the same home. They were companions in spirit and in home life.

She was the youngest child of John and Mary McBryan Downey; born in Ohio, came to Jefferson township, this county, with her parents when a child and to the Indian creek neighborhood, south of Martinsville, in 1870. She grew up there, later making her home in Martinsville until going to Indianapolis a few years ago. There she celebrated her eightieth birthday the last day of January.

Her nephew, Chauncey D. Downey, resides in the neighborhood of her childhood, south of Martinsville, and at her request the body was taken to the home of him and Mrs. Downey.

Why would she make such request; because she loved the community in which her father and mother spent the greater part of their lives. There she attended the district school, social events and church services. She knew and loved the people who composed the community. While it is true that her associates are there no more, yet it is also true that, in spirit, such associations are eternal. Love does not die.

Mary Burns' soul abounded in love. She loved her home and made it a good place to be. Her spirit gave comfort and warmth to the home. This spirit was continuing. It was not qualified by dissent.

Her neighbors were her friends. They could not be otherwise, because she was their friend. Her greeting was friendly. Her feeling was charitable. Her words were encouraging. She criticised no one. She was the same neighbor every day.

WIFE NOTES: Euna FRANKLIN

Birth: When she applied for a marriage license Dec. 28, 1909, Euna made a mis-statement, saying her date of birth was Dec. 19, 1886 instead of Dec. 19, 1889. She corrected this statement later. I suppose she wanted them to think she was older than she actually was.

Deloris Burns Butsch

Death: I found this on the Social Security Deaths and think it is our Aunt Euna. The date of her birth on this record is Dec. 19, 1886, which is the original birth date we have on her marriage record to Uncle Kenneth Burns. However, she changed the date on the marriage record later to Dec. 19, 1889. Deloris Burns Butsch

HUSBAND NOTES: Charles J. HAUG (CHANGED TO HOLDEN)

Death: Obit: Naples, Florida, Charles J. Holden, 73, formerly of Indianapolis, whose longtime musical career began in the era of silent movies and theater organs, died Saturday at his home. Holden began his career as the organ player for the Rivoli Theater, Indianapolis, when he was in seventh grade. He was billed as the "Boy Wonder." He also directed dance bands on ocean liners and was the leader of society bands at El Morocco and the Stork Club nightclubs in New York. Holden later was musical director of NBC's special projects and was associated with the early development of color television programming. He also wrote for the network's "Colgate Comedy Hour" and "The Big Payoff." During the same time he fronted bands for many of the era's star performers such as Jack Benny, Greta Garbo, Cole Porter and Judy Garland. He returned to Indianapolis in the 1960's and joined forces with Don Melvoin to produce an hour-long, daily variety show on WLWI-TV. He was the leader of the Indianapolis Athletic Club's house band four years. In World War II, Holden was a member of the Army Signal Corps Intelligence Division and worked on radar development. There were no services. Earl G. Hodges Funeral Chapel handled arrangements. Survivors - wife Virginia Bulen Holden; son Charles Randall Holden.

From Indianapolis News, May 31, 1990

General: Charles changed his name from Haug to Holden because of being in the music business. They pronounced his name as Hog, not Haug. According to cousin Frances Burns Eaton in 1984, Charles first wife was the daughter of a reknowned Doctor. They had a son Randal. Charles married Polly and they lived on Lake Lemon. She had 2 children and Charles was jealous of the 2 kids so they divorced. He met his fourth wife in Florida. She has money. They live in Florida and are going to Europe. He has had heart trouble. He hasn't touched a piano for 3 years and is down to 145 pounds.

CHILD NOTES: Randal HOLDEN

General: According to Frances Burns Eaton in 1984, Randy lives in New York and Paris. He never married. He was very good to his mother Alice and cared for her when she was sick. He went to City College and finished. He taught at the College. Alice died quite a few years ago. Randy and another guy have a booking agency.

Dear Susan & Greg,

I have printed more copies of information for you. I will make comments about them as I put them in order from first to last, in the envelope.

Computer printouts on Laverne Burns family, Milo Eaton, Greg Eaton, Lawrence Fitzsimmons, Henry Martin, Charles Haug (Changed to Holden)

Article on Burns Trivia we found in the Martinsville Library which refers to John Burns and wife Elizabeth Baker. Article on One of the Twelve which talks about several John Burns' living in the Morgan County area. Mayme Green feels Elizabeth Baker was married first to a Glessner. John Burns is the father of Morton Burns which tells us positively that John is our Grandfather because we know Morton is a part of our ancestry.

Photo we took of home in Martinsville where our ancestors once lived.

Marriage records of John Burns and Elizabeth Glessner.

Henry H. Burns and Emma Ward. You will find in other articles he is referred to as "Harry" which can be rather misleading

Marriage applications for Kenneth Burns and Euna Franklin, Millard Burns and Ethel G. Pruitt, Harry Burns and Rose Teipen and Smith Burns and Mary Johnson. I think these applications give much information and very interesting to read to see who their parents are, where they lived, parents names, birthplaces and dates, occupations etc.

Death records on Elizabeth Burns, (wife of John),

On Sarah Ward (mother of Emma Ward who married Henry H. Burns (Harry) and my grandmother

On Emma Ward Burns, my grandmother

On Harry Burns (Henry H.), my grandfather. When Harry's first wife Emma died, he married Emma's older sister Mary. These death records Are badly printed and hard to read in places. Knowing for sure that Harry or Henry J. is our grandfather, his death record also proves to Us that John Burns and Elizabeth Baker are our grandparents since Their names are on this record.

Cemetery photos we took on:

Charles Haug and wife Murryle Burns

Millard Burns-I never did find info on his wife Ethel. They were divorced.

Smith Burns and wife Mary Johnson

Milo Eaton and wife Frances Burns

Emma Bell Ward Burns buried in Nutter Cemetery, my grandmother

Harry Burns, my grandfather and wife Mary Ward Burns-his second wife

Pension record on John Burns for his wife Elizabeth. She received money for their 3 youngest children. I think these papers are interesting to read because they tell us a lot, what outfit John was in, where he was or did in the war, etc.

Dear Greg,

First, I will introduce myself. I am a cousin of your mother Frances. My father was Harry Keith Burns, a brother of your Grandfather Smith Burns. My father died at an early age, back in 1931.

We are doing some genealogy on the Burns family and have quite a bit of information up to now. I don't know if you are interested in genealogy, but thought I would ask. I would be happy to send you what information we have.

In our family are 4 girls, Rosemary, Deloris (me), Margaret and Wilma. Our only brother Kenneth passed away. I guess with our father dying at such an early age, we didn't get to visit or see much of our Burns cousins. But we girls have all talked at some time with your mother. She talked about having pictures of our dad And we really wanted to try and get a copy of what she had. We talked about visiting her, but she didn't want visitors. She said she would call back, but we never heard from her.

You may already know a lot about the relatives and if you're interested, we would like to share information. John Burns and Elizabeth Baker were the parents of Henry Harrison Burns. He and wife Emma Bell Ward were parents of our father Harry Keith and your mother's father Smith Burns. They were also parents of Kenneth Burns, Millard Burns and Murryle Burns Haug. We have made trips to Martinsville and the Indiana State Library here in town to gather information.

We went to the various cemeteries and took pictures of the gravesites. Many buried at Floral Park as you would know. Uncle Kenneth is buried in Washington Park East as well as his daughter Aurmeta's husband. Our father is buried in St. Joseph Cemetery. Uncle Charlie and Aunt Murryle Haug are in Weeping Willow Cemetery, Beanblossom, as well as Uncle Millard Burns.

We would be very interested in getting copies made of any pictures your mother had of our family as well as your family and others of the Burns group. We also would like to have information on where your aunt Barbara and husband are buried, or the wives of Kenneth and Millard, or Aurmeta is buried, if you know it.

I am on the computer, DelorisButsch@aol.com At age 81, I'm far from being a pro, but I try. Or you can write to me at 465 Mellowood Drive, Indianapolis, IN 46217-4936. We really would appreciate any help you could give us.

I got your address from the lady at Floral Park Cemetery.

Best wishes to you and your family,

Deloris Burns Butsch

Dear Deloris,

I'm Susan Eaton, Greg's wife. Aunt Lena sent us your letter in a Christmas card and Greg's been meaning to answer you but he's not to fast with such matters so I thought I touch bases with you.

We would be glad to help and would be interested in reading what you have found out. I remember Francis (Greg's mom) talking about you and wanting to get pictures but it never happened.

We do not know where Aunt Barbara and Uncle Fitz are buried. You think we would but sometime when you have a day we can discuss some of the family reasons why. But Fitz had a sister who sent us a few things and she would know. She is

Nelda Leuthold
5640 Rock Branch Rd.
Mineral Point, WI 53565
1-608-987-2856 aft 8 o'clock

It was strange. Aunt Barbara and Francis had a falling out over something stupid. I had always kept in touch with Aunt Barbara with letters from the time we were first married. Then one night late we got a call from Fitz saying she had died. It might have been January. Greg and I were I guess inexperienced, I don't know but we didn't go and really didn't know what to do. Then, we had always sent them a subscription of the Star/News during the month of May because they always enjoyed the race news. We sent the subscription to Fitz and never heard a thing until Nelda called and said he had died. They had found Greg's grandpa Harry's watch and it had a note on it for Greg and wanted to send it. We were dumbfounded.

Here is Fitz & Barbara address. They lived there always. It might help you locate something.

7782 Old Sauk Rd.
Verona, WI 53593

I just see in my address book I wrote down she died 1-10-95 and in 1991 she was 60.

As for pictures. I think it was about 5-6 yr. ago we broke up Greg's folks house. At that time we had to do it fast as we had a buyer. It had 40 yrs. of stuff in it. We tried to go through things but there wasn't enough time. So we found a friend that had a hanger over at Eagle Creek Airport to store stuff. The boxes of photos and stuff are over there. Nothing is organized. Then we had the best intentions of bringing a box home every few months to sort it. Right. When it gets a little warmer we will be glad to go see what there is.

I am soooooooooooooo sorry it has taken us so long to reply. Your letter has been on my mind so I just decided to reply for Greg. Please keep in touch and prod us.

We just moved. We are: Greg & Susan Eaton
6590 E. 750 S.
Brownsburg, In. 46112
theeatons@aol.com

You can't tell where we live by our address. We are at the exit of 65 and Zionsville Rd. I just looked up your address on my Indpls. map and see you are down east of German park. That's not too far. We must keep in touch. I guess this day in age you just have to set a date to do something or it just gets put off. That's what we will have to do with the pictures.

Sincerely, Susan

March 4, 2003

Dear Susan,

I am so happy to hear from you, you made my day!! Thanks for writing and please thank your Aunt Lena for sending my letter to you.

Doing genealogy has been in my blood for many years. I worked with a cousin, on our grandparents Anthony Teipen and Henrietta Rakers for many years. Anthony and Henrietta were the parents of our mother Rose Teipen Burns. We girls have gone to Europe several times and met with relatives in Germany and Holland.

Our sister Margaret started working on the Burns family and I began to help with that. Having a computer has enabled me to find a lot of information. We also have found information in Martinsville and the Library downtown. I can find census and social security deaths on the Internet. I wrote to Washington, D.C. for the Civil War, Federal Pension records on John Burns. As yet, we haven't been able to find the name of his parents. John is the great grandfather of me and my sisters and would be the great great grandfather of Gregg.

On Social Security deaths I found Lawrence R. Fitzsimmons died Jan. 21, 1995 and Barbara Burns Fitzsimmons died Jan. 10, 1995, Verona Branch, Dane County, WI 53593.

Lavern and I were in Rosemary and Carl's wedding. He and Lena brought Uncle Smitty and Aunt Mary to visit Rosemary when she lived on Finley. Rosemary said she visited them when they lived on Talbot Street as she was on her way to the Doctor. Lena and Laverne came when Rosemary's husband Carl Brandenburg passed away in December 1978. Their daughter Nancy went to IU so she and Carl did have chances to visit Lavern and Lena in Bloomington. Laverne and Lena came when our brother Kenneth died in December 1990.

My husband also died in December, in 1993, and I moved here to live with Rosemary. We would welcome any of you to come visit. We don't drive, but our younger sister Margaret still drives. Somehow I hope we can arrange a visit. When it gets warmer and you see what is in the boxes of photos, lets try to get together. Frances did say she had photos of our father, and I think, had some of we children. We are easy to locate. South on Meridian to around 8400 Meridian School Road. Turn right (west) on that road to the first street Rahke Road (a 4 way stop), south on Rahke Road to the 2nd street on the left which is Mellowood Drive. Rosemary is on the southeast corner of Rahke and Mellowood, a stone house with driveway off of Rahke Road.

I'm going to go through things that I have and start sending them for you to see. That way you will have a chance to view them before we meet. When we get together we will have a chance to talk about everything, and exchange all information that we know. You probably know a lot of things you could add to what we have and that would be great.

In behalf of Rosemary, Margaret, Wilma and myself, thanks for writing and lets keep in touch.

Sincerely, Deloris

Thanks so much for the photos. I have not opened it yet. I don't download and do stuff well on the computer. My knowledge is very limited. We have our sons old computer, and it is slow. Greg is good at that kind of stuff, and we will look at them together.

Also got your packet of info yesterday. We were flabbergasted to see that Fitz died only 11 days after Barbara.

You have really done a great job. Sure is a lot of information and what a nice format and way to read it.

We will most definately keep in touch. Please feel free to nudge us on going to the hanger for the boxes of pictures. When we get them I hope you know what to look for because I don't know if we will know who people are, and I don't really know how much is there.

Our youngest son David has been out at FT. Sill, Ok. for the past 9 weeks doing basic training for the Army National Guard. He is 24 and a graduate of IU and after a year of driving the Weinermobile for Kraft decided he wants to learn to fly helicopters. So after much research and thought he signed up. He graduates from basic week. Greg and I are driving out for the ceremony. I'm so anxious to see him.

Our oldest Patrick is 26. He is out in the Berkeley, Ca. area. He is married to Courtney. He has 2 more yrs. to get his PhD. in computer engineering. Courtney is an environmental engineer and works for a company that deals with water pollution. No grandchildren yet.

Until later. Looking forward to meeting you.

Sincerely, Susan

HARRY AND ROSE TEIPEN BURNS

Harry Keith Burns was born February 5, 1893 in Martinsville, Indiana and died October 13, 1931 in Indianapolis, Indiana. He was buried in St. Joseph Cemetery at South Meridian and Pleasant Run Blvd. His parents were Henry Harrison Burns, born in Martinsville, Indiana (1867-1926) buried Floral Park Cemetery, Indianapolis and Emma Bell Ward, born in Martinsville, Indiana (1870-1899) buried in Nutter Cemetery, Martinsville, Indiana. On one census Henry was listed as a painter. They had 5 children, Kenneth, Murryle, Millard, Harry Keith and Aorrie Smith. When Emma died, Henry Harrison married his second wife, the older sister of his first wife Emma Bell. Her name was Mary Ward born in Martinsville, Indiana (1855-1928) buried in Floral Park Cemetery, Indianapolis, Indiana.

The Burns family left Martinsville and in 1911 lived at 135 Hoefgen Street, which is near Manual High School. Harry Keith, our father, had various occupations but in 1917 when he married our mother Rose, he was a Tank Salesman and lived with his family at 638 Division Street. He later became an automobile mechanic and was considered one of the best in the city. He taught the trade to two of his brothers-in-law, Harry Martlage and Norris Cunningham. He worked in the Fountain Square area and later in a shop on Main Street in Greenwood, Indiana. At night he worked on automobiles in the garage at his home at 1633 Finley Avenue.

Rose Catherine Teipen was born September 22, 1898 at 1111 So. West Street in Indianapolis. She died November 3, 1979 and was buried in Washington Park East Cemetery. Her parents were Hendricus Antonius Teipen born in Denekamp, Holland (1859-1929) and Hendrika Catharina Euphemia Rakers born in Esche, Germany (1866-1939). She was called Rika in Germany and Henrietta here in the USA. Both were buried in St. Joseph Cemetery. Rose was one of nine children. The children went to Sacred Heart Church and School. In 1906 the family moved from West Street to Bakemeyer Street. Rose wrote letters to Germany for her mother Henrietta, because Henrietta couldn't write English or German.

Rose and Harry married February 7, 1917 at Sacred Heart Church. She was Catholic but he wasn't, so they married in the Church Parlor. At that time Harry was living at 638 Division Street with his parents. Rose was listed as a clerk on the City Directory and living at 151 Bakemeyer Street with her parents. They had a grocery store at the front of their 13 room house, so Rose probably worked in the store. We don't know when or where our parents met. We think Harry drove a van or truck for a dry cleaner.

Rose and Harry had 7 children, Mary, stillborn (Dec. 12, 1917), Helen Marie (1918-1919), Harriet Rosemary (1919-), Deloris Mae Frances (1921-), Kenneth Harry (1923-1990), Margaret Mary (1925-), and Wilma Elizabeth (1928-). Mary, Helen and Rosemary were all born on Bakemeyer Street, Deloris was born in Jackson County on the grandparents farm (the reason is unclear, but maybe Henrietta was a midwife and helped in the birth), Kenneth and Margaret were born on Bakemeyer Street. In 1925 Harry and Rose bought a house at 1633 Finley Avenue, and Wilma was born there. We found records on Mary and Helen Marie at Lauck Funeral Home and know they were buried in St. Joseph Cemetery. However, the Cemetery office has no records on them. Mr. Lauck told me years ago they didn't keep good records at the Funeral Home or the Cemetery. Kenneth was buried in Boggs Cemetery, near his home.

When Anthony & Henrietta moved from West Street, we were told they moved a house down to Bakemeyer from Morris and West Streets. Then they built homes on the property they bought on Bakemeyer. We aren't sure how many homes they built. We were told some of the property on Bakemeyer was sold to buy farms in Jackson County in 1918. Rose was a witness to Henrietta's "X" when she had to sign papers to buy the farms because Henrietta couldn't write in English.

Rosemary remembers being down on the farm and sleeping in feather beds. There were coal oil lamps, no electricity and a heating stove. They had an outside toilet. Rosemary said when she was 5 years old and down on the farm, Uncle Dick West sent her a box of candy. She remembers walking down the lane to the mailbox. Uncle Dick worked for Crucible Steel Company at the time and the candy was in a small wooden box which had a sliding lid. It probably had held some small steel bits at the shop where he worked.

In 1925 we were still living on Bakemeyer Street and Rosemary started the first grade at William Evans School on South Pennsylvania Street. Her teacher was Miss Dollarhide.

We moved to 1633 Finley Street in 1926 and went to St. Catherine School on Shelby Street. It was quite a distance from our house and Mom worried about Rosemary walking there alone. So it was arranged for Deloris to start first grade at age 5, so they could walk together. They both took piano lessons from a Nun at St. Catherine's. We also remember taking tap-dancing lessons at the Indiana Ballroom under Jack Broderick.

Life was good as we remember it back then. We girls did the dishes and had to stand on a chair to put them away in the kitchen cabinets. We were seldom punished, but when the time came, Dad made us sit on the basement stairs. It was dark and really scared us. He didn't believe in spanking. Dad and Mom were good to us but Mom ruled the roost with an iron hand, except for Kenneth and Wilma.

Margaret and Wilma spent a lot of time playing with paper dolls. You could buy these dolls with many outfits. They would hang a line of string from one piano leg to the other and hang up the clothes with clothespins.

Our house wasn't far from Garfield Park. We would walk over there and play. In winter we would take sleds to the Park and slide down the hills.

Kenneth seemed to get into trouble more than we girls. One time he came home crying and told Mom a boy on the next street called him "white trash." Mom asked "what did you do to the boy?" and Kenneth said he called the boy a nigger. We don't remember that word being used at home so have no idea where Kenneth heard it. He was playing over on Hoefgen Street where our Uncle Henry and Aunt Frances lived. Their next door neighbors, the Weathers family, were colored. So Kenneth must have had words with a boy from that family. We had 2 colored families living on Finley and went to school with the children, and there was never a problem.

Another problem we remember with Kenneth was the day he came home with a mess on his head. Mom had we girls cleaned up, ready to go somewhere, and here came Kenneth. He played with a Lester Gootee who lived a few doors down from us. Lester took shellac and put all over Kenneth's head. We don't know what prompted Lester to do it, but Mom sure had a time cleaning him up.

Years back, milk was delivered to your front door. We had metal boxes and kept them by the door. The empty bottles were put in the box, the milkman came, and left what you ordered. One time Kenneth went to the Dawson's house next door and put "road apples" in their empty bottles. If you're not aware of what a road apple is, it's horse manure!

Rosemary remembers one Christmas when Kenneth got a black metal doll. It was attached to some kind of base and you could wind it up and it danced a jig. At Christmas we usually got toys and candy. One time we girls got a toy stove.

As kids, we remember Dad taking us down to Martinsville for some of the Burns Reunions. We also visited the Fish Hatchery. If we had to go to the toilet while riding in the car, we would pick up the floor mats and go. One time a man stopped dad and told him something was leaking from the car.

Mom and Dad and some friends and relatives got together on weekends and took turns going to one another's homes. Mom played the piano very well. At one time she played at a local theater on South Meridian Street when they had silent movies. At the get togethers, they enjoyed playing cards, listening to the music and visiting. Besides Mom playing piano, our Uncle Charlie played piano and banjo. A friend Odie Driscoll also played banjo.

Those were the days of prohibition and dad made home brew for the adults and root beer for the kids. He made the beer in large crocks in the basement and siphoned it into bottles. He had some sort of contraption to put caps on the bottles. Rosemary remembers helping Dad put the caps on. Their friends Lawrence and Clara Roeder lived on Finley and made dandelion wine. When the kids got tired, they would lay on top of, or under the beds on the floor.

Mom also used those large crocks, she did a lot of cold packing. She canned many vegetables, meats, and fruits and also made jelly and preserves. Margaret remembers Mom taking us to Bakemeyer Street to Otto and Hanna Dietz's house. They had cherry trees and let us pick them at no charge. Mom showed us how to use bobby pins to remove the pits.

There wasn't much money spent on clothes because Mom was a very good seamstress and she made a lot of clothes. Margaret remembers a dress with a very full skirt that Mom made for her. She said her friends asked if Mom would make one for them. So she did a good job and her work was appreciated. Mom had a portable Singer sewing machine in a case. She removed the lid, set the machine on the table and was ready to do her sewing.

The house on Finley was very small and had 2 bedrooms. The back bedroom had a full bed and a daybed which opened at night. Rosemary, Kenneth, Margaret and I slept there. The beds were wall to wall. Wilma slept in the front bedroom with Mom and Dad.

In 1928 our parents aren't listed on the city directory. We remember living for a time in Greenwood, so it must have been in that year. We lived in 2 different houses there, one was down a lane from old Madison Avenue, and the other was a very large house, 100 East Main Street, at the corner of Brewer, a short distance east of old Madison Avenue. Dad worked at a garage a few doors from the house, an auto mechanic. We don't recall what our parents did with the Finley Avenue house while we lived in Greenwood, perhaps they rented it out.

In 1929 the Stock Market crashed and things went from bad to worse. In the early 30's we had the "Great Depression." Many lost their jobs, their homes and money in the bank, which wasn't insured back then. There was no welfare but people survived somehow.

July 4, 1929 grandfather Anthony died in our house on Finley. Mom took care of him during his illness. Grandpa lived in the city because he worked in town and Grandma lived down on the farm. They bought farms Sept. 30, 1918 and sold them November 16, 1926. Grandpa was listed in the city directory as living on Bakemeyer Street in 1918, 1919, 1920 and 1921. Neither he or Henrietta were listed on the 1922 directory. In 1923 Grandpa was listed as living at 1637 Finley, a small house next door to the house our parents bought.

October 31, 1933 our dad died. He was operated on for cancer of the bladder, but died from a blood clot that struck his heart after surgery. Rosemary and I were walking home from St. Catherine's school when Mrs. Coombs, a friend of Mom's, stopped to pick us up. She told us about dad. In those days most people held wakes in their homes so dad's coffin was in our living room.

After dad died, Rosemary said Mom sat her down and they had a talk. Mom expected Rosemary, as the eldest, to help care for us kids. Mom didn't have money, but did have insurance to pay for Dad's burial. She couldn't buy a headstone but bought one later when she had the money. In those days there was no welfare but about once a week after school, Rosemary got free milk in a metal container at the Fire Station #29 on Shelby Street, across from St. Catherine's school.

We think Mom lived up the equity in the house and then we went back to live on Bakemeyer in Grandma's double. Mom had a hard time trying to support all of us. She cleaned houses, did laundry, whatever was available. She did a real good job ironing men's shirts. In those days, shirts were starched heavily on the collar, cuffs, and down the front. They were cotton and very hard to iron. We had no wash and wear in those days.

Things were not pleasant when we lived at Grandma's. She had a terrible temper and we can remember somebody telling us that she ran Mom around the house one time with a butcher knife in her hand. Grandma offered no help with us kids and it's hard to understand since Mom was always available to help when Grandpa was sick.

Sometime after dad died, Aunt Betty and Uncle Dick West took me to their home and Uncle Kenneth and Aunt Euna Burns took Kenneth. They were doing this to help Mom. Betty and Dick lived about 6800 south on old Madison Avenue. During those years, there was an Interurban train running on tracks from downtown. When dad took us to visit down there, we had to cross the track on old Madison and Shelby Streets, and you had to be alert at that crossing. The tracks were on the west side of Madison Avenue and in front of Aunt Betty and Uncle Dick's house. The tracks were a lot lower than the street so when dad backed out of the driveway, he was very careful he didn't back far enough to fall down into the track area. Aunt Betty and Uncle Dick both worked, so during school time, they dropped me off at Uncle Joe Teipen's house each morning and I walked to St. Roch school with the Teipen cousins.

Uncle Kenneth and Aunt Euna lived on the northeast side of town at 6157 Buckingham Drive. It was near Broad Ripple Park. At one time Uncle Kenneth was assistant Fire Chief. Aunt Euna was a lifeguard at Rhodes Park on the west side of town. She gave us swimming lessons. Rosemary said she remembers one time they took Kenneth to some meeting or party where they had sandwiches on a table for refreshments. Kenneth was small and went alongside the tables taking meat off the sandwiches, and eating it. He wound up getting sick and went into convulsions.

It was on Bakemeyer Street in June 1932 when Rosemary had a ruptured appendix and was very sick. She said Grandma did it because she put a hot water bottle on her stomach and should have used ice. They put tubes in her at the Hospital to drain the infection.

Mom could have used some help with us kids while she worked, but Grandma refused to help. We think Grandma lived on the other half of the double at 131-133 Bakemeyer at that time. How could Grandma be so nasty to Mom after Mom had cared for Grandpa Anthony during his sickness.

In the fall of 1932 Mom moved to 4401 Bethel Avenue in Beech Grove. Rosemary started 8th grade there. She remembers writing to Germany for Grandma. I came back from Aunt Betty's and started 7th grade at Beech Grove in 1933. We don't remember when Kenneth came back home. Uncle Kenneth wanted to adopt him but Mom wouldn't hear of it.

Mom married Clarence Schaeckel later, but we don't remember the date. Clarence had 3 children of his own. Life with him was no bed of roses. He was a very mean man and not very work brittle. One time Rosemary hit him because he had hit mom. We had many fights. He worked for Langenskamp and got laid off. Then he got a job with the WPA (Works Projects Administration) which was started in 1933 to help supply work for those needing a job. There was also a CCC (Civilian Conservation Corps) to help young men to work as foresters. These were started during Franklin Roosevelt's administration.

The house at 4401 Bethel had a big porch across the front and a side driveway. We had a living room clear across the front of the house. There were two bedrooms and another small room which held a daybed. There was a small kitchen and large dining room, but Rosemary said we ate in the basement. We had nice neighbors, the Harveys, Havilands, Odens and Grays. They all had children we could spend time with. Mr. Oden raised guinea pigs for Eli Lilly to use for research. Mrs. Haviland made doll clothes for Margaret and Wilma. We raised pigs and butchered them. There was a real "Indian" who came through the neighborhood looking for work. He brought his horse and hand plow and plowed our garden.

Later we moved to a house at 4203 Bethel. This house had 3 bedrooms and another small room which was used for sleeping purposes. This small room was supposed to be a bathroom at some point in time. We had an outside toilet.

We had a pump outside and one of Kenneth and Margaret's jobs was to pump water for Mom to do laundry. They pumped into a trough that went down to the basement. Mom had a stove down there to heat the water. She also had a "boiler". Back in those days, clothes that were very soiled were boiled for some time to help get them clean. Mom made soap out of lye, lard, etc. She also used the boiler to cold pack vegetables, fruit and meat. One neighbor nearby let her have pears to can.

Kenneth found a snake in the basement one time. He went next door to get Mrs. Haviland and she brought a hoe and chopped off the snake's head. One day he was climbing a tree in a neighbor's yard, and fell and broke his ribs. He was always where the action was.

We had two cows called Rosie and Lena. So we had plenty of milk to drink and we churned butter. The outside toilet was on one side of the garage and a chicken coop on the other side. In the back of the lot on the west, was a small barn for the cows. The calves were sold and one was a blue roan, a color you didn't see very often.

Mom got a job at Reserve Loan Life Insurance Company. She worked until 9 pm cleaning offices in that building. Mom walked Wilma down 13th street and met Rosemary after school. That way, Mom could go on to work and Rosemary took Wilma home. We had to get supper and get everybody to bed because Mom worked so late. As we recall, Mom rode the streetcar or bus to work and Clarence drove up to get her at 9 pm. We moved from 4401 Bethel Avenue to 4203 Bethel and lived there until late 1938.

During this period, we had some good and some bad times. Life around Clarence was no fun. He spent most of his time rocking in a rocking chair. Wilma remembers him knocking Mom backwards off the back porch. Luckily she landed on her feet. Rosemary hit him in the head one time because he hit Mom.

In 1934 Margaret was put in the Hospital for malnutrition and anemia. Before she left the Hospital, they also removed her appendix.

We never lacked for something to do and never had time to be bored. Mom kept us busy. Even though we didn't have much, everything had to be scrubbed and kept clean. No doubt this comes from our German heritage. If we complained or said we were tired, Mom would say "get busy and you'll forget you're tired." Margaret remembers one of her jobs was to cut pages from the Sears catalogue for use in the outside toilet.

School was quite a distance from our house, and there were no school busses to ride. You walked, rain or shine. Sometimes if there was a basketball game, or skating in the Gym, Rosemary and I would go back to school in the evening. It wasn't bad going, but coming home in the dark was a scary thing. There were no street lights and very few homes along the route we walked. I remember being in GAA, the Girls Athletic Association and playing basketball. I really enjoyed that. Rosemary didn't belong to the GAA.

In 1936 Mom had surgery. Rosemary lied about her age, she was 17, but said she was 18 so she could give 1-1/2 pints of blood for Mom. When Mom had surgery, I worked in her place, to keep her job cleaning offices at the Insurance Company. The Principal at Beech Grove High School allowed me to leave early enough to get to the job at Reserve Loan Life. I rode the bus. Clarence picked me up at 9 pm and brought me home.

Rosemary graduated Beech Grove High School in 1937 and took a job with a Lawyer, Henry Coombs. She worked in a building on South Pennsylvania Street. Deloris graduated in 1938 and got a job across the street from where Rosemary worked. They both gave some of their small wages to Mom.

Life with Clarence never improved, so Mom moved us out one night without telling him. We went to a rented house at 1419 Churchman Avenue. It was cold weather, sometime before Christmas in 1938. We remember living there in February of 1939 when Grandma Henrietta died. Rosemary's boss, Mr. Coombs, got the divorce for Mom and didn't charge her.

About mid year 1939 we moved to 350 North State Street. While working at Reserve Loan Life Insurance Company, Mom met Harry J. McCullough. He was the building superintendent there and very nice to Mom and us kids. He was quite a few years older than Mom. They got married but we don't recall the date. They were listed as Mr. & Mrs. on the 1940-1942 city directories as living at 350 North State. We lived close to Tech High School but it didn't have a very good name so Mr. McCullough paid tuition for Kenneth to attend Howe High School on East Washington Street. Margaret and Wilma went to Tech but each quit before graduating. Kenneth also quit Howe before graduating because he went into the Marine Corps.

December 7, 1941, the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor and we went to War. Kenneth and a school friend John Jackson joined the Marines. They had gone to school together and played on the school basketball team. Kenneth also played some CYO (Catholic Youth Organization) basketball with Ray Butsch and got in some trouble. It was written up in the newspapers saying (Sunday school boy makes Howe forfeit their basketball games.) Obviously neither Kenneth or Ray were aware of it being a problem for Kenneth to be involved with a CYO team.

In February of 1944 Ray Butsch also enlisted in the Marines. We lived at 151 Bakemeyer Street at the time and Mauna was two years old. With him going into service, I had to get a job to provide for me and Mauna. Mom agreed to watch Mauna while I worked, so we went back to live with her and Mr. McCullough on State Street.

Kenneth was at the Marine Corps base in Quantico, Virginia. He met Pauline from Alexandria, Virginia and they were married. This same year, Mom and her friend Mrs. Coombs, took Margaret to New York where she married Warren Smock.

He was in the service at this time and stationed at Staten Island, New York.

In 1945 Rosemary, Carl, me and Mauna all lived with Mom and Mr. McCullough at 350 North State Street. Carl didn't go to service, he got deferred because of his work at Allison's. Rosemary and Carl bought the house at 1633 Finley, and Carl used Mr. McCullough's car to go down and work on the house. Mom was so happy to see the house she lost when dad died was now back in the family. Mom and Mr. McCullough were divorced in the fall of 1945. He had lost his job and figured he would be a burden on Mom, so he went to live with his sister. In 1946, Nancy was born and Carl and Rosemary moved to 1633 Finley Avenue.

During the war Rosemary and I worked at Allison's where they made airplane engines. We worked 12 hours a day, 6 days a week and went to work in the dark and came home in the dark. Kenneth and Ray were both in the South Pacific area with the Marines.

After a time, I took a test and got a Government job as Secretary to the Captain in charge of the Chemical Warfare Depot on Northwestern Avenue in Indianapolis. We had prisoners of war there and it was an interesting job. Throughout the war, Mom sent "Care" packages to relatives in Germany. During war time Mom worked at Mallory's on East Washington Street.

In 1946 when Ray came home, we continued to live on State Street and Mom took a job at the Bertha Ballard Home at 411 North Delaware Street.

In 1950 Mom moved back with us and took a job at the Western Electric Plant on Shadeland Avenue, with Szabo Food Services. One time Mom was sent to the Boeing Airplane Plant in Seattle, Washington, to open Szabo services there. This same year, Rosemary and Carl sold the house at 1633 to Margaret and her husband Warren Smock, and once again Mom was happy to have the house still in the family.

In 1955 Ray and I bought the old Teipen double on Bakemeyer Street from Aunt Betty. She and Uncle Dick had bought the house from Grandma and changed it into a single home. Uncle Dick had passed away so Aunt Betty wanted to get out of the house and into a trailer. They had cared for Grandma in this home until she passed away in 1939.

Mom continued to live on State Street until she bought the house at 1633 Finley on August 10, 1967. She was so happy to be able to buy this home she lived in with our dad, a house she had lost many years ago when he died. She sold the house October 24, 1974. Sometime during this period she was not in the best of health and rotated her time between the homes of Rosemary, Deloris and Margaret.

In 1977 Mom went into Colonial Crest Nursing Home on Churchman Avenue in Beech Grove, Indiana. She died there November 3, 1979. Cause of death was cardiac arrest, due to arteriosclerotic heart disease and generalized arteriosclerosis. Another significant condition was functional bowel disease. She is buried in Washington Park Cemetery in the Rotunda Building 9, Section CC-R, Crypt #46, Row #5.

CHILD NOTES: Mary BURNS

Birth: No record of birth for Mary found at Sacred Heart Church. But Lauck Funeral Home records show she was born Dec. 12, 1917, stillborn daughter of Rosa Teipen and Harry Burns of 151 Bakemeyer Street.

Death: No record of death found for Mary at Sacred Heart Church. But Lauck Funeral Home records show Mary Burns, stillborn daughter of Rosa Teipen and Harry Burns died Dec. 12, 1917 and was buried in the German Catholic Cemetery, later called St. Joseph Cemetery.

Burial: When no records of my sisters Mary or Helen Marie was found at Sacred Heart Church or Catholic Cemetery Office, I wrote to Leo Lauck of the Lauck Funeral Home. His reply follows:

"I received your letter the other day and checked our records concerning the information you requested. Unfortunately, Grandpa Lauck didn't keep as much information as I do now. Our records showed that infant Mary Burns died on December 12, 1917 and was buried on the same day in the German Catholic Cemetery-later called St. Joseph Cemetery. Her parents were Rosa Teipen & Harry Burns and they lived at 151 Bakemeyer. The record does NOT show a lot number, but I would suspect that her burial is in the INFANT SECTION (Cemetery of the Angels) of St. Joseph which is located in the corner of the cemetery near South Meridian St. and Pleasant Run Blvd. Helen Marie Burns was born on October 28, 1918 and died on March 24, 1919. Her records show the same parents and same address as above. On this record the burial was stated as St. Joseph Cemetery. My guess is that she also is buried in the "Cemetery of the Angels" as was her sister.

The policy of the Cemetery for years had been to open the next grave in line in this section when a need occurred. However, if a family already had an interment in that section, many times they would make an effort to have a new interment as close to the other as possible. There is a STRONG possibility that they may be buried very close to one another. The Cemetery was supposed to keep a record as to these burials. We didn't start keeping grave locations in our records until my Father took over the books in the late 40's and early 50's. Great Grandpa Lauck and Grandpa Lauck were not much on record keeping.

In those days, the Cemetery many times allowed infants to be buried at the foot of an adult grave of a Family member. If the parents had grave space, the infants might be buried on that lot. I am sorry I could not be a better help in this matter, but this is all our records show. If you should have a question with this response or if I can be of any other assistance, let me know." HARRY AND ROSE TEIPEN BURNS

Harry Keith Burns was born February 5, 1893 in Martinsville, Indiana and died October 13, 1931 in Indianapolis, Indiana. He was buried in St. Joseph Cemetery at South Meridian and Pleasant Run Blvd. His parents were Henry Harrison Burns, born in Martinsville, Indiana (1867-1926) buried Floral Park Cemetery, Indianapolis and Emma Bell Ward, born in Martinsville, Indiana (1870-1899) buried in Nutter Cemetery, Martinsville, Indiana. On one census Henry was listed as a painter. They had 5 children, Kenneth, Murryle, Millard, Harry Keith and Aorrie Smith. When Emma died, Henry Harrison married his second wife, the older sister of his first wife Emma Bell. Her name was Mary Ward born in Martinsville, Indiana (1855-1928) buried in Floral Park Cemetery, Indianapolis, Indiana.

The Burns family left Martinsville and in 1911 lived at 135 Hoefgen Street, which is near Manual High School. Harry Keith, our father, had various occupations but in 1917 when he married our mother Rose, he was a Tank Salesman and lived with his family at 638 Division Street. He later became an automobile mechanic and was considered one of the best in the city. He taught the trade to two of his brothers-in-law, Harry Martlage and Norris Cunningham. He worked in the Fountain Square area and later in a shop on Main Street in Greenwood, Indiana. At night he worked on automobiles in the garage at his home at 1633 Finley Avenue.

Rose Catherine Teipen was born September 22, 1898 at 1111 So. West Street in Indianapolis. She died November 3, 1979 and was buried in Washington Park East Cemetery. Her parents were Hendricus Antonius Teipen born in Denekamp, Holland (1859-1929) and Hendrika Catharina Euphemia Rakers born in Esche, Germany (1866-1939). She was called Rika in Germany and Henrietta here in the USA. Both were buried in St. Joseph Cemetery. Rose was one of nine children. The children went to Sacred Heart Church and School. In 1906 the family moved from West Street to Bakemeyer Street. Rose wrote letters to Germany for her mother Henrietta, because Henrietta couldn't write English or German.

Rose and Harry married February 7, 1917 at Sacred Heart Church. She was Catholic but he wasn't, so they married in the Church Parlor. At that time Harry was living at 638 Division Street with his parents. Rose was listed as a clerk on the City Directory and living at 151 Bakemeyer Street with her parents. They had a grocery store at the front of their 13 room house, so Rose probably worked in the store. We don't know when or where our parents met. We think Harry drove a van or truck for a dry cleaner.

Rose and Harry had 7 children, Mary, stillborn (Dec. 12, 1917), Helen Marie (1918-1919), Harriet Rosemary (1919-), Deloris Mae Frances (1921-), Kenneth Harry (1923-1990), Margaret Mary (1925-), and Wilma Elizabeth (1928-). Mary, Helen and Rosemary were all born on Bakemeyer Street, Deloris was born in Jackson County on the grandparents farm (the reason is unclear, but maybe Henrietta was a midwife and helped in the birth), Kenneth and Margaret were born on Bakemeyer Street. In 1925 Harry and Rose bought a house at 1633 Finley Avenue, and Wilma was born there. We found records on Mary and Helen Marie at Lauck Funeral Home and know they were buried in St. Joseph Cemetery. However, the Cemetery office has no records on them. Mr. Lauck told me years ago they didn't keep good records at the Funeral Home or the Cemetery. Kenneth was buried in Boggstown Cemetery, near his home.

When Anthony & Henrietta moved from West Street, we were told they moved a house down to Bakemeyer from Morris and West Streets. Then they built homes on the property they bought on Bakemeyer. We aren't sure how many homes they built. We were told some of the property on Bakemeyer was sold to buy farms in Jackson County in 1918. Rose was a witness to Henrietta's "X" when she had to sign papers to buy the farms because Henrietta couldn't write in English.

Rosemary remembers being down on the farm and sleeping in feather beds. There were coal oil lamps, no electricity and a heating stove. They had an outside toilet. Rosemary said when she was 5 years old and down on the farm, Uncle Dick West sent her a box of candy. She remembers walking down the lane to the mailbox. Uncle Dick worked for Crucible Steel Company at the time and the candy was in a small wooden box which had a sliding lid. It probably had held some small steel bits at the shop where he worked.

In 1925 we were still living on Bakemeyer Street and Rosemary started the first grade at William Evans School on South Pennsylvania Street. Her teacher was Miss Dollarhide.

We moved to 1633 Finley Street in 1926 and went to St. Catherine School on Shelby Street. It was quite a distance from our house and Mom worried about Rosemary walking there alone. So it was arranged for Deloris to start first grade at age 5, so they could walk together. They both took piano lessons from a Nun at St. Catherine's. We also remember taking tap dancing lessons at the Indiana Ballroom under Jack Broderick.

Life was good as we remember it back then. We girls did the dishes and had to stand on a chair to put them away in the kitchen cabinets. We were seldom punished, but when the time came, Dad made us sit on the basement stairs. It was dark and really scared us. He didn't believe in spanking. Dad and Mom were good to us but Mom ruled the roost with an iron hand, except for Kenneth and Wilma.

Margaret and Wilma spent a lot of time playing with paper dolls. You could buy these dolls with many outfits. They would hang a line of string from one piano leg to the other and hang up the clothes with clothespins.

Our house wasn't far from Garfield Park. We would walk over there and play. In winter we would take sleds to the Park and slide down the hills.

Keneth seemed to get into trouble more than we girls. One time he came home crying and told Mom a boy on the next street called him "white trash." Mom asked "what did you do to the boy?" and Kenneth said he called the boy a nigger. We don't remember that word being used at home so have no idea where Kenneth heard it. He was playing over on Hoefgen Street where our Uncle Henry and Aunt Frances lived. Their next door neighbors, the Weathers family, were colored. So Kenneth must have had words with a boy from that family. We had 2 colored families living on Finley and went to school with the children, and there was never a problem.

Another problem we remember with Kenneth was the day he came home with a mess on his head. Mom had we girls cleaned up, ready to go somewhere, and here came Kenneth. He played with a Lester Gootee who lived a few doors down from us. Lester took shellac and put all over Kenneth's head. We don't know what prompted Lester to do it, but Mom sure had a time cleaning him up.

Years back, milk was delivered to your front door. We had metal boxes and kept them by the door. The empty bottles were put in the box, the milkman came, and left what you ordered. One time Kenneth went to the Dawson's house next door and put "road apples" in their empty bottles. If you're not aware of what a road apple is, it's horse manure!

Rosemary remembers one Christmas when Kenneth got a black metal doll. It was attached to some kind of base and you could wind it up and it danced a jig. At Christmas we usually got toys and candy. One time we girls got a toy stove.

As kids, we remember Dad taking us down to Martinsville for some of the Burns Reunions. We also visited the Fish Hatchery. If we had to go to the toilet while riding in the car, we would pick up the floor mats and go. One time a man stopped dad and told him something was leaking from the car.

Mom and Dad and some friends and relatives got together on weekends and took turns going to one another's homes. Mom played the piano very well. At one time she played at a local theater on South Meridian Street when they had silent movies. At the get togethers, they enjoyed playing cards, listening to the music and visiting. Besides Mom playing piano, our Uncle Charlie played piano and banjo. A friend Odie Driscoll also played banjo.

Those were the days of prohibition and dad made home brew for the adults and root beer for the kids. He made the beer in large crocks in the basement and siphoned it into bottles. He had some sort of contraption to put caps on the bottles. Rosemary remembers helping Dad put the caps on. Their friends Lawrence and Clara Roeder lived on Finley and made dandelion wine. When the kids got tired, they would lay on top of, or under the beds on the floor.

Mom also used those large crocks, she did a lot of cold packing. She canned many vegetables, meats, and fruits and also made jelly and preserves. Margaret remembers Mom taking us to Bakemeyer Street to Otto and Hanna Dietz's house. They had cherry trees and let us pick them at no charge. Mom showed us how to use bobby pins to remove the pits.

There wasn't much money spent on clothes because Mom was a very good seamstress and she made a lot of clothes. Margaret remembers a dress with a very full skirt that Mom made for her. She said her friends asked if Mom would make one for them. So she did a good job and her work was appreciated. Mom had a portable Singer sewing machine in a case. She removed the lid, set the machine on the table and was ready to do her sewing.

The house on Finley was very small and had 2 bedrooms. The back bedroom had a full bed and a daybed which opened at night. Rosemary, Kenneth, Margaret and I slept there. The beds were wall to wall. Wilma slept in the front bedroom with Mom and Dad.

In 1928 our parents aren't listed on the city directory. We remember living for a time in Greenwood, so it must have been in that year. We lived in 2 different houses there, one was down a lane from old Madison Avenue, and the other was a very large house, 100 East Main Street, at the corner of Brewer, a short distance east of old Madison Avenue. Dad worked at a garage a few doors from the house, an auto mechanic. We don't recall what our parents did with the Finley Avenue house while we lived in Greenwood, perhaps they rented it out.

In 1929 the Stock Market crashed and things went from bad to worse. In the early 30's we had the "Great Depression." Many lost their jobs, their homes and money in the bank, which wasn't insured back then. There was no welfare but people survived somehow.

July 4, 1929 grandfather Anthony died in our house on Finley. Mom took care of him during his illness. Grandpa lived in the city because he worked in town and Grandma lived down on the farm. They bought farms Sept. 30, 1918 and sold them November 16, 1926. Grandpa was listed in the city directory as living on Bakemeyer Street in 1918, 1919, 1920 and 1921. Neither he or Henrietta were listed on the 1922 directory. In 1923 Grandpa was listed as living at 1637 Finley, a small house next door to the house our parents bought.

October 31, 1933 our dad died. He was operated on for cancer of the bladder, but died from a blood clot that struck his heart after surgery. Rosemary and I were walking home from St. Catherine's school when Mrs. Coombs, a friend of Mom's, stopped to pick us up. She told us about dad. In those days most people held wakes in their homes so dad's coffin was in our living room.

IN MEMORIAM.

ALTHOFF—In loving remembrance of our dear husband and father, Felix H. Althoff, who died two years ago today, Oct. 19, 1917.

Had is the memory of two years ago today, when you left us all in sorrow. You could bid no one a last farewell. You could say goodbye to none. A dear heart had ceased to beat. Before we knew that you had gone.

You were the best that God could lend. A loving husband, father and a faithful friend.

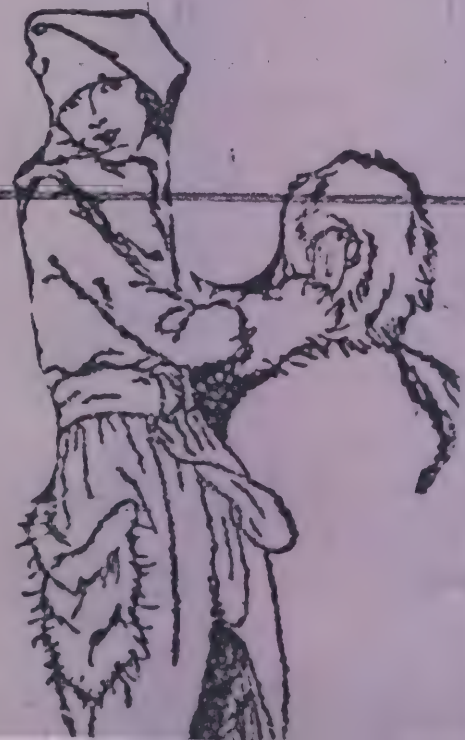

We often sit and think of you when we are alone.

For memory is the only thing, friend, that grief can call its own.

Burial: Buried In Section 74, Lot 751

MOTHER NOTES: May (Sarah) WARD

Address: Lived by the Marrott Hotel

Death: Death record Voume 1638, Certificate 3761. Florida

General: We think Aunt May married about 5 times. She danced on the Stage in New York City. She had a son by Ernest Pierson but they never saw each other, she didn't really raise him, his father Ernest did. She lived up by the Marott Hotel for years. We recall our father taking us up there to visit. She took us riding in her electric car. In her basement, she had many antiques. Our parents were given a cherry chest of drawers from Aunt May and it is still in our family. Dad was supposed to drive her down to Florida when he died in 1931. She had a face lift and blonde hair. She died in Florida. (Deloris Burns Butsch)

Girl Dies in Farmhouse Fire

A fire ripped with nearly explosive force through a frame farmhouse near Crown Center this morning and caused the death of a 14-year-old girl.

Edna Marie Ward, daughter of Alfred and Stella Fryman Ward and a freshman in the Eminence High School, was overcome by flames and smoke just as she was preparing to leap from a second story window as three of her sisters did.

The heroism of a brother in the large Ward family averted another possible death when James, 18, put a ladder against the furiously blazing house and carried Raymond, 9, down.

The fire started at about 8:50 this morning just after Mrs. Ward had gone into the garden behind the six-room house. When she returned, the back wall was ablaze, with the fire apparently originating in a stove. Two hours later, a bottled gas container was one of the last objects still burning about the leveled ruins of the old frame building.

Mrs. Ward, according to reports attempted to get to the second floor via the stairway but was forced back by flames.

Her daughters Kay, 8, Marian, 11, and Barbara, 16, all leaped from the window of their bedroom on the east side of the house. Witnesses said Marie attempted to leave, that she swung her legs over the window ledge and sat up, but for some reason hesitated and was overcome by the fumes. She fell back into the room.

Her remains, burned beyond recognition, were removed to the Harvey Funeral Home after the fire died down.

The three other girls, all injured, were taken in private automobiles to the hospital in Greencastle.

The Reporter learned there this morning that their burns were "severe," but was unable to verify reports of injuries resulting from the long jump.

Other children in the large Ward family are Opal, 4, Carolyn, 6, Oscar, 19, Cpl. Carl in Japan, 22, John, 24, William, 25, Paul of Indianapolis, 31, and Ed of Frankfort, 29.

The Wards moved to Morgan County from Indianapolis seven years ago, and Mr. Ward was purchasing the farm on which the house was located.

Although a fire truck was summoned from Clayton, the flames consumed the dry frame house so quickly that nothing could be saved. Oscar told The Reporter that the house was insured, but the ten persons of the family residing in the home were left only with the clothing they were wearing.

Live trees shading the yard around the home were set blazing by intense heat, and James and Oscar were planning this morning to cut down some to prevent further mishaps.
